Out-lines of Brazilian history /
 1500 the year when Brazil ~~was~~ discovered by the Portuguese, is not only an interesting date for the historical chronology and for the patriotic celebration with are up to now held every year on May 3rd.

If we keep in mind that Brazil is a part of the American continent as a whole and that America had already been discovered ~~so~~ eight years before, it will seem a slight exaggeration to talk about "discovery" when referring to the happy event that brought to this country the fleet of the portuguese navigator Pedro Alvares Cabral.

However the emphasis put on word "discovered" is quite easy to explain when we remember that by so doing Portugal bestowed upon itself rights to part of the south American continent, where up to this day the portuguese language is spoken and which part covers the half that continental.

United State experience

In United State another important field for the work of British Companies increased fire wastage persisted month by month.

Many of the figures constituted records. The total for December for example: was the highest since the national Board of fire and underwriters began to compile its records.

The total loss for 1944 was estimated for £ 455,329.00 & 91,066.00 taking \$5 to the pound which exceeded by $7\frac{1}{2}\%$ the total of £ 423,538,000 & 840,708,000

example

The real German enemy.

There are intermittent rumors to the effect that Hitler's day is done that the German army is ready to take over and govern the Reich. To Americans, such rumors sound fine. Most people in this country believed that Hitler and the Nazis are the sole rulers of Germany and are responsible for the war. Eliminate them willingly and we shall have achieved our biggest war objective. Nothing could be further from the truth. The United Nations will make a tragic mistake if they stop with eliminating Hitler and his henchmen. Hitler is only the symbol of German aggression. Behind is the stance - the German General Staff. And behind the General Staff are the Prussian Junkers, Kaiser, Dictator, and even President may come and go in Germany but the Junkers go on for ever.

We should remember that Russia is entitled to a Europe which is not hostile to her. We should also remember that while American aid in building back her destroyed industries is highly desirable to Russia, it is not indispensable.

She will not exchange for what she considers her security in ^{the} new world. She is, however, in a mood to accept decent compromises. But as our armies are in Europe while the settlement is being worked out, we find that we cannot get everything we want, we would be childishly stupid to get mad, pick up your top and go home.

A Legend of the morning star

Two Indian children, brother and sister loved each other so dearly that one was never seen without the other.

One day they were told that day ^{they} were to be parted.

The sister had been told by the great spirit to go far away to the place of breaking light.

The brother was to go to the hills to live ^{among} ~~with~~ the sprites.

When they were about to ~~leave~~ each other the sister said: Farewell my brother; I shall be thinking of you always and ~~watch~~ ^{watch} over you from my new home.

When you look toward the east and see beautiful red clouds floating along the sky think of your sister and believe that she is ^{floating} ~~floating~~ and adorning herself with gay colours. The brother replied farewell my own dear sister I will dwell upon the rocks that look toward the east that you may gaze upon you ~~and~~ light and delight in your beauty for ever. A sound of many winds now fell upon the ears of the brother and sister, and the four spirits of the realm came forth.

They lifted up the sister and carried her to the place of breaking light where she was changed into the morning star.

Then the brother went to the hills and lived upon the rocks that looked toward the east. There, in the early dawn every day he ^{watches} ~~waits~~ for the morning star and the beautiful red clouds with which his sister adorned herself as she stood in her star lodge in the sky.

Spent their
son like there,

My dear friend

Finally I can put in reality my dream. My travel ~~by~~ ^{to} the U.S.A.

After 15 days we arrived here.
The ship left Bahia last 22nd
we passed by several ports in the North of Brazil and through the Panama Canal and after a very nice ~~journey~~ ^{trip} we arrived at California.

There we ~~know~~ ^{saw} many pretties cities
with large streets and beautiful squares with very nice flowers.

After to know all the Pacific side we take the chemin de fer and through to the East side.

I think that ~~is~~ ^{are} the best days
that I ~~have~~ ^{spent} in all my life.

When I arrived there I ~~tried~~ ^{tried} to you a better ^{telling you of a} lovely walk we made in the U.S.A.

Carmen

The first Rattlesnakes

Long, long, ago the great spirit would often come down from his happy home in the sky to watch the Indians at their work. Or go hunting and fishing with them. When each man did as well as he could the great spirit was pleased.

But if an Indian was lazy or wicked, the spirit was angry and the Indian was sure to be punished in ^{some} way. One bright sunny day the sky was clear the wind blew gently over the cornfield the birds were singing in the air and the bees were humming among the flowers. It was such a beautiful day that some of Indians had stopped their work and were singing and dancing while others were telling stories. In the midst of their pleasure the great spirit left his home in the sky and came down among them in the form of a feeble old man. Stop. Singing and dancing and listen to me he cried.

There is to be a great flood on the earth. Go and prepare yourselves and your children instead of wasting your time in play. There is no time to spare. The flood will be such as you have never seen or heard of before.

Oh! do not bother as laughed the Indians. We do not care about ^{what} is to ^{come}. We want to have a good time now. What does an old man like you know of floods. Go away and leave us to our pleasure. I know that it will be a great flood said the old man. The waters will rise as high as the tops of the highest trees. Everything on the earth will be covered, come hunting

The Indians ~~mocked~~ ^{mocked} of the old man and continued singing and dancing.

They ~~coming~~ ^{went} in his home and put cocoons in the stick and made much noise.

When they finished the dance and go out, the sky was covered of clouds, the wind was blowing and a great storm down thunder rumbled and roared.

The old tree transplanted

A certain farmer had a choice apple tree in his orchard which he valued above all the rest, and of the fruit of which he sent his landlord a yearly present. The landlord liked the fruit so much that he resolved to have the tree itself transplanted into his own orchard. But the removal killed it and thus ~~indirect~~ ^{erected} the supply of apples. When the landlord was told that it had perished he exclaimed "This is the consequence of transplanting and old tree to gratify a covetous desire if I had contented myself with sharing the fruit all would have been well."

with resolved removal persisted

A Challenge to Civilians

This fall I came home from France on a ship that carried over 1,000 of our wounded American soldiers.

About a 4th of them were terribly wounded stretcher cases. The rest were up and about. These others could walk ~~tho~~ among the walking where many legs and arms missing. Many eyes that could not see. One soldier was near death ~~on~~ this trip.

He was wounded internally and the army doctors were trying desperately to keep him a life until we got to America. They kept pouring plasma and whole blood into him constantly, or until they run out of whole blood. I happened to be in the head doctor's cabin at noon one day he said other doctors when going around the ship typing blood specimens. They were were doing it almost surreptitiously they did not desperately alive want it known that they needed blood why? because if it had been known there would have been a stampede to the hospital ward by the other ^{men} offering their blood to this dying comrade. think of that. A stampede of men themselves badly wounded wanting to give their blood.

Domestic life

25/10/46

Domestic life is the life with the family. The family is formed by mother father son and daughters.

In older times the servants were also included in the family. Respected and love belong to the family.

In it each one has his duty. Generally the father goes to work very early in the morning. The mother takes care of the house makes the meals and educates the children and sends them to school.

If they are grown up the daughter helps mother around the house and the sons go out to work. The children must always obey their parents. The peace in the family is formed by the mutual understanding that exist among parents and children. The mother cleans the house makes the beds and when they come home she always meets them who with a smile,

Trips and voyages

We have many ways to make trips. If we want to take a simple walk through the mountains we can do it on foot or on horse back. Many years ago it was difficult to make trips or excursion. There were no roads and very few carriages. Now we have motor-car and many other means of transport. We have the railways. It is a very quick way to travel. On a train we can see and cross many countries when going from one place to another. If we need to cross the river we will just take a boat, but if we want to make a long voyage across the ocean then we can take a ship or a steamer. The modern and quickest way to make a trip is by airplane. It will take us a few hours or days if a distance is longer to get to where we desire. There are planes from Brazil to New York in four days and S. Paulo to Rio de Janeiro in a few hours.

A sea voyage is very nice one and it is cheaper it is not so quick as by plane but now-days they make the voyage very quick. through.
